Special Notice.

WE are out of money, and respectfully notify all who owe us debts contracted prior to the 1st of January last, that we are COMPELLED TO COLLECT.

ROWAN, DEAN & CO. Feb. 1st, 1872—3t.

"Lines, by a bereaved mother," sent us through the hands of a valued lady friend, will appear next week. Received too late for this issue.

"Good morning madam, what have you got to sell this morning?" "Well I have a few eggs, little butter and some chickens."

"Well just bring them to my house and I will buy them."

"Oh no, I am going to take them to W. T. & C. S. Alexander for they will give me more than anybody."

We ask our friends who have communications in the office to be patient. We will try and get them in next week.

While the newspapers of other counties have their twelve and fifteen columns of tax sales, we can exhibit only eight tax sales, or barely one-fourth of a column. This was the case last year and when we pointed out the fact with pride, some of our exchanges expressed doubt as to the truth of the assertion. It speaks well for Calhoun, the Democratic county of Calhoun. Please note ye impecunious, Tax-dodging Radicals who have no feeling but hatred for our noble and honest county.

Dried Beef at W. T. & C. S. Alexander's.

W. T. & C. S. Alexander sells Groceries cheaper than anyone in Jacksonville.

Cigar Emporium at W. T. & C. S. Alexander's. They keep good Cigars.

Attention is directed to the advertisement of Wilcox, Gibbs & Co.'s Guanos, of which Mr. James F. Crow, one of our popular young Grocery Dealers, is agent for. Call on Mr. Crow and learn prices.

The sensible Tax Assessor of Calhoun in view of possible future difficulties, took only the ad valorem value of the property of the county, and therefore has no difficulty in making up his assessment according to existing laws, passed by the present General Assembly. In this he has shown strong good sense and been actuated by most patriotic motives, which the people will appreciate. Last week in speaking of the necessity which now devolved on Assessors to revise and correct their lists, we were ignorant of what our Assessor had done in the premises, though we had confidence enough in his patriotism to know that he would not be quick to assess "under any law of the Court House mob."

WHO WANTS A HOME? Col. Parr offers for sale three nice residences in Jacksonville—prices reasonable—terms accommodating—call and see him.

Seed Irish Potatoes.

Col. Parr has in store and to arrive, 100 Bbls. Irish Potatoes of every variety. Go to Parr's to buy your GUANO, Bacon, Lard, Corn, Oats, Meal, Peas, Sugar, Coffee, Salt, Flour, Syrup, Molasses, Mince-meat, Pig Feet, Cod Fish, Mackerell, Herring, Crackers, Nuts, Candies, and

All kinds of Family Groceries.

No doubt you have all read the story about George Washington cutting his father's fine cherry tree. I will now tell you another one of George's great acts. One day George's father left home to attend to some of his business, and when he came home he went into his garden and found his fine Cherry Tree cut down and all his Bacon, Lard, Flour, Meal and all his Groceries gone. So he went into the house and called George:

"George, my son, come here, who cut my Cherry Tree down?" George looked up in his father's face and said:

"Father I can't tell a lie, W. T. & C. S. Alexander cut it down and took all the Groceries."

Col. Parr has a very large stock of all kinds of Garden Seeds—IRISH POTATOES—SEED OATS, Corn, Bacon, Meal—ONIONS, Buttons and Sets, Red and Silver Shins. See his Stock.

I heard a lady remark the other day that W. T. & C. S. Alexander kept the neatest Confectionery in town. I don't wonder that she made this remark, for the business is conducted by C. S. Alexander, and Charlie is a neat young man.

In a recent lecture on the Sandwich Islands, "Mark Twain" said that in fifty years the race would be extinct. Their color was of rich dark brown. They were not in the least vicious, but gentle and harmless. The women wear a single loose garment that falls straight from the neck to the heels. In the upper country the men wear—well usually they wore a smile, or a pair of spectacles, or anything of that kind.

Great quantity of Irish Potatoes at W. T. & C. S. Alexander's.

Seed Oats, good stock at W. T. & C. S. Alexander's.

Go to W. T. & C. S. Alexander's and get some of the great Western stock remedy.

A chunk of gold weighing over 240 lbs. and worth about $250,000 was found in the claims of Yo Yen & Co., at Moore's Flat, Colorado, on Tuesday of week before last. Those claims are by a Chinese company to whom they were sold cheap having, as was supposed, been exhausted.

Big excitement yesterday at W. T. & C. S. Alexander's about the stock remedy.

Go to W. T. & C. S. Alexander's to buy your Groceries.

Cigars at W. T. & C. S. Alexander's cheap.

Mansfield's Hungarian Balm Cures Coughs, Colds and Consumption.

With entire confidence in its merits, we would commend this preparation to all who may be afflicted with any disease of the Lungs, as a safe and effectual medicine. It has been used, particularly in the Western States, with great success in many cases where the life of the patient was despaired of. We believe this to be the best Lung Remedy now before the public, and worthy of a fair trial by those having any affection of the Lungs.

READ THE TESTIMONY. MEMPHIS, TENN., April 21, 1871. Messrs. Mansfield & Higbee:

I am from Albany, N. Y., whither I will return in about two weeks. I have been troubled with a severe cold, spitting blood, and with other symptoms of Lung disease, having been confined to my bed three days, and so weak I could not sit up, and having part of the time a heavy fever. I used your Hungarian Balm with entire success. It afforded quick relief, and with the aid of a couple of doses of Marsh's Sassa-Pilla to work out the cold, am now entirely cured. Believing it is a positive duty to others who may be similarly affected, I thought it best to let you know of it. Three doses of the Hungarian Balm, cured the spitting of blood.

CHARLES A. JONES.

ASSAULT.—Lewis E. Parsons assaulted Mr. Hunter, of Lowndes, in the United States Court Room last night after the adjournment of the examination of Parsons and Williams, who had been arraigned before Judge Busted, charged with a violation of the Enforcement Acts. Parsons struck Mr. Hunter several blows, when the parties were separated by gentlemen who were present.

Montgomery Advertiser. A child, aged two years, of Mr. Hardwick, of St. Clair county, fell into a wash boiler filled with hot water, and was scalded to death. So says the Eagle.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT IN CHEROKEE COUNTY.—One night last week Mr. G. M. Crouch shot his own son, N. B. Crouch, thinking that he was shooting some person that was stealing his chickens. The news that reaches us concerning this sad accident, is this: There was some disturbing the chickens, and N. B. Crouch went out of the house into the yard to see what was the matter, and while out there his father went out also, and seeing his son, supposing him to be a thief, went back into the house and got a gun and fired at him, the discharge taking effect in his son's body. It was thought that N. B. Crouch would not live. It is with regret that we chronicle this sad accident. Since the above was put in type, we have heard that Mr. Crouch has died.—Gadsden Times.

Boyd, of Marshall. This gentleman is a representative Democrat. His conduct in the last Legislature made him respected and admired from the Tennessee to the Gulf. His action during the present session, has commended him most warmly to the people of Alabama. We have heard the regret often expressed, since the present session commenced, that we did not have a "few more like Boyd of Marshall." The people of Alabama will yet remember him.—Selma Times.

A Fearless Press the Safeguard of the Public.

[From the Montgomery Advertiser.]

Perhaps there is on the whole, no abler political editor in the United States than Col. John W. Forney, of the Philadelphia Press. He has been a conspicuous member of the so-called Republican party since 1860, and contributed immensely to its success.—The (Connecticut) Norwich Advertiser says that in reviewing the situation of public affairs, Col. Forney is disinclined at the sight! He finds that not only the good name of the Republic, but its safety is in danger! The Press asks whom are we to trust? Who is faithful? It then presents the following paragraph from the Press article:

We answer the questions frankly, by declaring that the American people now have no truer, more disinterested, or vigilant representative than they possess in the journalists of the land. The Press is the most trustworthy exponent of popular rights, and in the hour of the country's shame the people turn with increased confidence to the journalist who defends their interest and denounces their wrongs. We candidly believe that if it were not for fear of the press, the corruption which develops itself in so many official places would be tenfold greater, and show itself with more effrontery. But the wholesome influence of the press is a barrier to official crime and political corruption, and as the people come to understand their representative they will increase their own safety by enlarging his powers.—When the American press becomes what it is fast becoming—the undoubted antagonist of wrong in every shape—the American Government will emerge from the foulness which now in part surrounds its legislative branch and become the stronger by reason of the stern lessons the governing classes are now learning. The people are now realizing that when the press heretofore pointed to political corruption, the truth was uttered; and, heretofore, when the press denounced such wrongs, the influence of the denunciation will be felt in the ballot-box. On the journalist, therefore, and not the legislator, will the people rely for a representative that is entirely honest.

LIVINGSTON, Feb. 26. The majority for Little, our candidate for Senator, is 375. We have beaten the opposition candidate, a company of United States cavalry, two United States Marshals, Oliver, the Sergeant-at-Arms of the Alabama House, who got leave of absence to go home, but came here, and a Congressman at Large, Sheets by name. Wells J. Bray, Esq., Democrat was elected Mayor to-day, over the strongest opposition candidate in the city, and by the largest majority that we have had for years. Our City Clerk, Marshal and Council, all elected. This is a glorious victory and rebuke to those who have so basely slandered our county, city and people.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.

The memorial of Sykes, stating his claim to a seat as Senator from Alabama will be presented to the Senate to-morrow. The extra session of the Senate will bring up the case of Sykes vs. Spencer soon after that body reassembles on March 4th. Sykes has a strong case, able counsel, and is sanguine of success. No one believes Spencer can get the seat on his present credentials.

WASHINGTON.

During the discussion over the Caldwell corruption and a proposition to postpone, Mr. Carpenter said the case of Louisiana did demand Legislation, and if not acted on at the present session, there was imminent danger of civil war and bloodshed in that State. In view therefore, of the very brief time left of the session, he thought it was best to let this Caldwell matter go over until after March 4th. The Caldwell case was postponed.

House: The Judiciary Committee report that they have no jurisdiction on Messrs. Colfax, Ames and Brook's connection with the Credit Mobilier, because the former was not vice-President, nor was Mr. Ames nor Mr. Brooks members of the present Congress.

The President was at the Capitol to-day, and had an interview with the Committee on Privileges and Elections. It is said he urged action to relieve him of responsibility for Louisiana. He made, it is said, no suggestions, simply urged Legislation.

Josh Billings says that when a man has to search Webster's unabridged for words big enough to convey his meaning he may make up his mind that he doesn't mean much. He also says that the reason why are so few happy people in the world is that they mistake their bodies for their souls.

The man who thought he would play Santa Claus, for the benefit of the little ones of his household, recently, in Toledo, Ohio, got into the wrong chimney, and when he emerged from the fireplace, covered with soot, his hair gone, and the Chicago "fire-fiend" already at work on the seat of his trousers, he was heard to whisper "Why resort to deception to please the youthful mind? Bring me some soft soap and flour, Maria, quicker. Buffalo, Bill over skinned a cat."

Josh Billings says that when a man has to search Webster's unabridged for words big enough to convey his meaning he may make up his mind that he doesn't mean much. He also says that the reason why are so few happy people in the world is that they mistake their bodies for their souls.

The Patience of Hope.

Can the dead birds ever wake-

To the life of song once more-

Can the drooping flowers be won-

As they did in days of yore-

Can the soft winds ever fold us

Where no chilling storm may blight;

Can the sunshine ever hold us

Safely from the threatening night?

Will the rain-drops dreams of childhood

Cluster round us once again-

Will the shadows on the willow

Mark where better years have lain-

Will the old days ever come

With their face of beauty and

Willow and hopes, to greet us

In the heaven far away?

And like organ music pealing

Will the soft vox humani along.

Makes the wondrous voiceless song.

So through all the still air

Of each sad and weary day;

Mingles subtle sweetness o'er

From the land not far away.

ROWAN, DEAN & CO.
Feb. 1st, 1872—31.

The election for Mayor & Councilors for the town of Jacksonville for the year 1873, last Monday, resulted in the almost unanimous reelection of the old Council & Mayor. Some opposition was developed on the day of the election to two members of the old board, but the parties undertaking it were not of sufficient force to command more than twelve or fourteen votes, although they had a colored brother well drilled who carried tickets and "fought nobly" all day.

The Rt. Rev. R. H. Wilmer, D. D., Bishop of the Diocese of Alabama, will preach in St. Luke's Episcopal Church, in this place, on Tuesday, the first day of April, at 11 o'clock, A. M., and at 7 o'clock, P. M., at which time the Rite of Confirmation will be administered.

CALHOUN TOBACCO.—Mr. James F. Crow has just received a fine lot of this unequalled Tobacco, pronounced by all lovers to be the best ever brought to the Southern market.

We learn by private letter from Calhoun, that there was an error in the account of the accidental killing of Mr. N. B. Crouch, which we copied last week from the Gadsden Times. The father, G. M. Crouch, did not suppose the object he fired at to be a chicken thief, as stated, but was under the impression that he was shooting at an owl or some wild animal, he could not distinguish what in the thick darkness.

LINES

BY A DERIVED MOTHER.

When the day glides away
And darkness comes in
Tis then I kneel to pray
Security from sin.

I feel the need of grace,
To help me on the way,
To that bright blissful place—
The realm of endless day.

Our Father does protect
Us, with the purest love,
And in mercy directs
His dearest from above.

But thus 'tis hard to think,
When sorrow's burdened
Of our precious links,
Tis natural to grieve.

I see the vacant chair,
It causes me to sigh—
Dear Maggie is not here,
The idol of her mother.

She was our household pet;
An unassuming child,
Her deeds we'll not forget,
So gentle, pure and mild.

Behold! affection's chain
Lies trailing in the dust!
But I will not complain,
In God I'll put my trust.

We these afflictions need:
They bring us nearer Him
Who on the cross died bleed,
To cleanse us all from sin.

Oh, robed in disguise,
Beneath the cross we wait;
He draws us to the skies,
By taking loved ones late.

Three precious little boys
Have left this earth before,
And gone to share the joys
On an eternal shore.

I hope I'll meet them all
In perpetual bloom,
When I receive the call
To go beyond the tomb.

I feel the chastening rod,
And humbly try to say:
Thy will be done, Oh God!
I'll trust thee if thou stay.

THE LUNGS.

Consumption is the scourge of this country and slays its thousands of victims annually; yet how many people neglect a slight cough or cold, which the Hungarian Balm of Life will cure in a single night. This great remedy will effect a cure in cases of bronchitis, incipient consumption, or any form of bronchial or lung disease.

READ THIS EVIDENCE.

Near Vicksburg, Miss.,
Oct. 22, 1870.

Messrs. Mansfield & Higbee:

GENTLEMEN: Your Hungarian Balm for the lungs has won for itself a great reputation in this town. Many cases of lung diseases have been promptly cured by its use. Some of these were reported as having consumption, others with pains in the chest, breast and side, accompanied by night sweats, while others had all the symptoms of pneumonia. In all these cases your Hungarian Balm acted as a charm, giving in most of them immediate relief. The reasons which induce me to recommend your remedy in preference to all others, are: First, it is prepared in a scientific manner by responsible parties; 2ndly, it contains no opiates or morphia, which drugs, while they palliate at the same time poison. The use of such remedies, cherry pectorals, &c., containing these opiates, distorts the system, and produces "opium eaters." 3rdly, I recommend your Hungarian Balm in all cases of lung complaints, because of its known efficacy and value. The ingredients of which it is composed, are the expectorants, diaphoretics, alteratives and tonics best known to the medical profession of the present day.

Yours respectfully,

T. B. GLIDDON, M. D.

The ghost in the Newburyport school house, which so frightened the school matron and puzzled the wits of the good people living in the neighborhood, has been laid at rest. A committee appointed to investigate the matter report that after a thorough examination of the alleged spiritual phenomena, they are satisfied that there are no mysterious facts to be accounted for. It appears that a number of the boys in the school had undertaken the amusement of playing ghost for the purpose of scaring the girls, and succeeded beyond their anticipations, frightening the whole community so that scarcely any one within 20 miles of Newburyport has dared to be left alone in the dark since they began their pranks. Several of the young scapegraves made a full confession of their share in the business. The boy who personated the ghost, which caused the teacher to faint had been kept from school on account of a sore toe—the day he made his appearance in the entry, and had slipped out without his mother's notice, to make his appearance in the school house entry. He says that when the teacher came into the entry, finding that he could not escape by the door, he retreated up the attic stairs. The teacher followed and attempted to catch him, but he slipped and fell, falling with fright, when he slipped past her and ran home.—N. Y. Sun.

A faro-dealer in this city, about four years ago, was compelled to relinquish his position by paralysis of his right fore-finger. The nerve cell (in the spinal column) which supplied the joint had died from overwork, and the muscles of the finger gradually passed away from disuse—atrophied the doctors call it. The dead cell in the spinal marrow in some way, by contact or sympathy, destroyed its neighbor, which controlled the same finger on the left hand. The atrophy extended over both hands, and at last, to the chest, shoulders and neck. At the present time there is not a muscle in these portions of the man's body. The arms hang useless and absolutely fleshless—more skin and bone. The intercostal muscles are gone, and the man can make no respiratory movements requiring their action; the neck is asophagus, trachea and spinal column laid in skin, and that is all the process of the latter standing out as plainly as a skeleton. The head unsupported, hangs down on the chest, as if it were merely tied on. By a movement of the joints the man can throw his head over so that it will fall resting on his shoulders and back, but otherwise than thus, mechanically, he cannot control his motion. What parts the disease will next attack is a question with the physicians at Bellevue, where the case was shown yesterday. Breathing is hardly doubtless, and the result is hardly doubtless, and must cease if this be attacked.—N. Y. World.

BY TELEGRAPH.

MINNESOTA.

GOOD NEWS FOR BREAD-EATERS.

Minneapolis, March 2.—Reliable advices from the interior along the railroad lines show that the quantity of wheat back in the farmers' hands is now greater than it has ever been before at this season. The warehouses and elevators of all the railroads are full of wheat waiting for transportation. Reports also say that large quantities still remain unthreshed. It is estimated there are from ten to twelve million bushels surplus in Minnesota still to go forward.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Later of the Factory Horror—the Bodies of two more Girls Discovered.

Boston, March 2.—The remains of Lizzie Hanks and another girl, supposed to be Ann McDonough, were taken from the remains of the Hanover street fire Friday. The body of Miss Hanks is not yet recovered. Women working as substitutes, whose names are unknown, are still missing. So far three firemen and three girls are dead. Two injured firemen are in a precarious condition. The others are doing well.

WASHINGTON.

Washington, March 3.—In the Legislative Appropriation bill, salaries were fixed as follows:

President, $25,000; Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, $10,000; Justices Supreme Court, Cabinet officers, Vice President and Speaker, $10,000; Senators and members of Congress, including the present Congress, in lieu of mileage and all allowance except actual individual travelling expenses $7,500.

The Louisiana Question.

Grant is at least candid. His message to Congress is imperial in style and dictatorial in language. He demands that some solution of the Louisiana problem shall be made by Congress, but he does not promise to abstain from vetoing a bill which overturns the work of his henchman Durell, should such an one be passed.

We rather like the tone of the message. He gives fair notice that he intends to crush the legitimate government of Louisiana and maintain the bastard horde in office. Louisianians, then, may make up their minds to four years of the rule of Kelllogg, Durell—and that pitiful wretch Longstreet. They must submit to it unless, indeed, Kelllogg and his gang can either be bought up to retire, or forced to take a never ending bath at the gloomy bottom of the turbid Mississippi.

It is a mere matter of time, after all this heaping outrage. Some day the South, weary of bending the knee, will rise erect. Some day Southern men will resume their manhood and reassert it. Louisiana bound hand and foot by Grant and his bayonets, or the plaything of a Congress, is none the less pitiable a spectacle. For in fact, neither Congress nor President can interfere without doing violence to every right possessed by her people. Congress cannot make and unmake a State; neither can the President. The attempt at either is usurpation.

We deprecate violence as much as any man, but there are times when violence is only the misnomer of decision. If Mr. McEnery has the pluck it will not take him twenty-four hours to be in complete possession of the office to which he was rightfully elected. The people are at his back, and the men of New Orleans know how to act when ordered by legal authority.—Atlanta Herald.

Printing Five Million Dollars—A

True Story of the Late Confederacy.

The Story I am going to relate occurred in 1861. It owes its origin to the great war that then took place, and like many other interesting episodes, has never been published. The facts were learned several years ago, narrated by persons then residing in Richmond, and although in minor details there may be slight inaccuracies, in the main the story is true.

Shortly after the Cotton States troops commenced their influx into

Virginia, a treasury department was established at Richmond. At that time the currency, outside of gold and silver, consisted of State and stock banks, which was found insufficiently to supply the demand of the accumulating armies of nearly 400,000 men. Richmond being headquarters of the rising Confederacy, it was selected by the leading men of the rebellion as the most suitable place for the issuance of their national currency.

In the treasury department there was employed a man by the name of Elam, a compositor. He was a shrewd and tricky fellow, as the sequel will amply prove.

After reflecting upon the great opportunity he had of becoming a millionaire, he determined to strike off a large amount of this money.

No precautionary measures were taken in regard to this establishment, as all seemed to be engrossed

in the furthering of Southern independence. But while Elam was patronizing in the cause, he had an eye also to business. So one night he concluded that the opportune moment was at hand for carrying out his design. Walking along the street, he met and accosted a man who went by the name of "Napoleon," divining the object in view and offering an equal partnership

Republican

JACKSONVILLE, ALABAMA.

SATURDAY, MARCH 22nd, 1873.

The Rome Courier thus "goes for" the unfaithful Congressmen from Georgia who voted for the back salary steal.

"A grander swindle, a more unblushing robbery was never before perpetrated upon the Treasury than when the Congress voted itself back pay on the increased salary; and what makes it more so is that it was done by men who were not only the authors of the bill, but who were also the recipients of the money."

"It is with sorrow that we have to make this announcement, and a real pain that we have to hold up the names of our once trusted representatives to the scorn of our outraged people."

The Courier is severe on these men, but more so than they deserve. Being Democrats only heightens the grade of their offense. Never before in the history of the two parties, has the Democratic party had in its power to present to the country a contrast between the two so strikingly and powerfully in its favor. Had the Radical party alone been left to carry through this inquiry, and were the Democracy able to hold up clean hands before the country, as it could do but for this thing, it would be no difficult task for it to carry the next Presidential election. But the accused love of gold broke down the barrier between the parties, and Democrats and Radicals alike stuffed their pockets full of the people's money, forgetting their honor, forgetting their country. The million or more of money they have stolen is nothing. The Democratic party could well afford to give each Democrat who voted for it, ten times the amount he wished to be able to wipe out the record. It is the fact that this hideous monster of corruption and infidelity to public trusts that has so long marked the Radical party, has crossed the line and invaded the ranks of the Democracy, that is the cause of most public concern. The Radical party has already filled its cup of iniquity and brought the country to the verge of ruin. The Democracy once given over to corruption, what hope of the country is there left? Then will we have that Rotten Republic, so vividly pictured by Judge Black, as worse than any Despotism on earth. But it has not come to this yet. As the Philadelphia Age remarks: "The tree is not all rotten. The rottenness is confined to the top branches—the men in high places—as yet. The roots of the tree and trunk—the people—are sound still." But how long will it be before the whole tree will die, unless the diseased branches are lopped off and the tree restored to health? Not long.—Indeed the body has already been touched, if we may infer anything from the public receptions Oakes Ames, the Congressional Briter, and Colfax, the unmasked hypocrite and convicted liar, received at the hands of their friends and constituents upon their return from the Forty-Second Congress. The State Legislatures are almost without exception, rotten to the heart. Bribery of members to vote for huge Railroad monopolies, mark the Legislatures of the North. The pocketing of fees to vote corrupt soundbills into the United States Senate is peculiar to members of the Western Legislature. Barren-faced robbery of the people has characterized the purely Radical Legislatures in the South, while an alarming conservatism, cowardice and a servility to the power at Washington has distinguished the more civilized Legislatures, such as we have at Montgomery.

The whole head is sick.

The President may not steal; but he accepts gifts, and is a heartless despot. Heads of Departments may not steal, but they compound felonies with rich rogues who do steal. The Supreme Court Judges may be honest; but they lack the manhood and courage to promulgate decisions likely to prove distasteful to other co-ordinate branches of the Government. In its servility the Court has abdicated its functions, and no longer sacredly guards the Constitution. Congress does steal, and refuses to censure bribed members and convicted liars who claim seats in it. Most of the Legislatures in which the Radical element predominates are corrupt beyond estimate. In our own State, the Legislature of which is respectable as compared with some, we behold the Speaker of the House openly confessing to the fact that he signed a bill authorizing the issue of Two Million Dollars in Bonds that he knew was not passed by the required constitutional majority. We see that bill filed in the office of the Secretary of State, signed by the Speaker of the House and President of the Senate, and approved by the Governor, who is sworn to uphold the Constitution. We hear these men confess their crime and declare the act void from the beginning. We hear them declare that none of the bonds shall be put upon the market, and ask for other bonds at the hands of the present Attorney-General's Legislature. We see the too credulous Democrats fall into the trap and vote for the issue of a Million and a half Dollars in Bonds. And then what do we see? Why no sooner is this amount authorized to be issued, than Gov. Lewis puts the Two Million of Dogus Bonds on the market, and his "pal" in New York, Henry Clews, is ordered to "shove" a Million of the "puer" forthwith, if we may believe the New York Sun. When Mr. Boyd wishes to introduce a resolution of enquiry touching this charge of the Sun, the Radical House refuses to

The Insane Asylum Bill which passed the House, and which the Governor has vetoed, is the subject of much conversation among Democrats. They are supposed to exist in the entire party in the State. Men who profess that honored name, have voted in the Senate to thrust upon the people of the State a measure that even White and Parous could not stomach; and some of them are charged by the Sun Times with having made speeches on the Civil Rights Bill that called forth warmest denunciations from the Radicals—speeches that would have astounded and mortified their constituents beyond measure. While the State is almost in the throes of financial death, we see Senators voting for a removal of the Capital to a remote part of the State, (Mobile), and deliberately throwing away a magnificent property in Montgomery, (the Capitol grounds and buildings, which revert to the heirs of the original donors, in case of removal), as lightly as if the State were rich beyond comparison; and this without one thought of the wishes of their constituency in the matter. After abusing a Radical Senate for holding over four years, we see them propose to follow the example of that Radical Senate. Turn where you will, and corruption, indifference to public interests and a lofty disregard of the people mark the great mass of office-holders. This must be stopped, or the country is gone. Public men must learn that the people are yet masters. Public men must learn that high position gives them no immunity to steal and play tyrant in this country. To bring about this, the people ought to take a more immediate interest in public concerns. The Congressional Districts of the men who voted for the back salary steal ought to request them to return and let honest men take their places. The old-fashioned indignation meeting ought to come in vogue again. Whenever a Representative or Senator in the Legislature grows neglectful of his constituents or disregards their wishes in the smallest matter, he ought to be requested to return home forthwith. The public press must be more independent; and spot a recumbent or a drone or a weakling wherever found in public life, in whatever party found. The language of the whole country—press, pulpit and people—should be the language of the poet, so aptly quoted in connection with the late murder of Louisiana:

"God give us men! a time like this demands Strong men, great heart's true faith and ready hands; Men whom the lust of office does not kill; Men whom the spoils of office cannot buy; Men who possess opinions and a will; Men who have honor; men who will not flinch; Men who can stand before a demagogue And damn his treacherous dastardness without winking; Tall men, sun-crowned, who live above the fog In public duty, and in private thinking; For, while the rabble in their dumb wrongs croak, Their large professions and their little deeds— Mingle in selfish strife! lo! Freedom weeps; Wrong rules the land, and waiting Justice sleeps."

Our faithful Representative, Capt. Renfro, has introduced a bill, which has passed the House, requiring the Secretary of State to furnish this country with a Tract Book. It will doubtless pass the Senate. The County Court bill has been referred to the Judiciary Committee in the Senate. When it comes up again, Col. Cooper will doubtless put it through. This bill was introduced by Capt. R. and has already passed the House.

We have got to hear the first man in Calhoun County say that he favors the removal of the Capital from Montgomery. On the contrary all strongly oppose it. Our representatives, Messrs. Cooper and Renfro, are respectfully requested to oppose it.

All the Radicals in the House opposed the bill to keep the school funds in the counties. All the Democrats favored it.

DE HUSTON EXPELLED.

The Conference Committee Declared the Pastor Guilty of Immorality and Gross Licentiousness, and Expel Him.

Baltimore, March 14, 1873.

The case of Rev. Dr. L. D. Huston, charged with gross immorality and licentiousness, which has excited such deep interest in this community and the entire Methodist Episcopal Church South, was concluded this morning in the session of the Methodist Episcopal Church South.

Shortly after the meeting of the Conference this morning, Bishop Doegert, prolocutor, quivered if the committee in the case of Rev. Dr. Huston were ready to report.

The Chairman, Rev. Dr. Register, responded that they were, and handed the following to the Secretary, which was then read:

The committee to whom the case of the Rev. L. D. Huston, D. D., was referred, beg leave to report that we have come to the conclusion that the charge of immorality is unanimously sustained, and said L. D. Huston has been expelled from the Methodist Episcopal Church South.

Bishop Doegert asked if any representative of Dr. Huston appeared from the decision.

Dr. Register said that Dr. Roszell, as counsel for Dr. Huston, had indicated a purpose to appeal to the next General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church South.

All the papers in the case were handed over to the Secretary of the Conference.

Bishop Doegert then remarked: "According to the report of the committee, L. D. Huston is expelled from the Methodist Episcopal Church South, upon the charges as reported, and that is an end to this case."

It will be remembered that the charges against Dr. Huston were for seduction of a Sunday school scholar attending Trinity church, of which he was pastor at the time, and grossly immoral conduct with other young girls, a committee, appointed by the conference a year since to investigate the charges, found that they were sustained, and on the 6th of this month, on the meeting of the present Conference, submitted their report, which was read, and as required by discipline to a constitutional conference, the committee consisting of Rev. Dr. Bussey, Rev. J. L. Clark and Rev. A. P. Bland. On the following day the latter committee submitted their report to the Conference and the case was referred to a committee of all the members, they deem it necessary to prevent the charge of immorality with specifications against Rev. L. D. Huston, and recommended the appointment of a committee of trial, as required by the discipline of the Church. The Bishop announced Rev. S. Register, D. D.; Rev. J. R. Finley, D. D.; Rev. T. B. Sargent, D. D.; Rev. J. C. Dineen, Rev. A. B. Dolly, Rev. F. C. Jones, Rev. J. P. Smith, Rev. F. C. Tobias, Rev. J. P. Shipley, Rev. J. B. Hall, Rev. G. Brooks, Rev. J. M. Grandner, Rev. J. Higgins and Rev. S. Townsend as such committee. It is the report of this latter committee, consisting of all the members in the church, which was submitted this morning.

Dr. Huston was represented before the committee by Dr. Roszell, as counsel, aided by outside legal counsel.

The General Conference of the church to which appeal will probably be taken, has not yet been called, and it is expected that the Conference will not be held in this city. His parchment as deacon in the church was handed in to the Conference this morning.

Bacon.

Sides and Hams—medium size—very superior quality for family use—just received and for sale at reduced price by JAMES F. CROW. March 22, 1873.

Two of our young men walked five miles into the country last week, to get to ride back in a buggy. So one of the boys tells us them.

We are happy to learn that Mr. Lawson Stewart, who was some time back sent to the Tusculum Asylum for the Insane, from this county, has returned to his home entirely restored. We also learn that Mrs. Marlowe, of this place, who was violently insane when sent to the same place, is now clothed in her right mind. Her husband has gone after her.

Friday night before last the Good Templars organization of this place formed in procession and marched to the Baptist church to hear a lecture on temperance. Quite a number of people outside of the organization were also present to hear the lecture, which had been previously announced. Rev. Mr. Thompson, of the M. E. Church at this place, delivered the lecture.

We direct attention to the advertisement of A. W. Ledbetter, (with Jehial Read & Co., New York,) which we place in the local column this week, in order that it may more readily attract the attention of our merchants who contemplate making a trip to New York this season. Mr. Ledbetter is one of the best business men among the young men of our State; is ever courteous and polite, honorable and truthful—just such a man as the merchant visiting New York would be fortunate to strike. The house he represents is one of the very best in the city. We hope that merchants who go from this part of Alabama to New York, this season, will seek Mr. Ledbetter, and through him make a liberal portion of their purchases in the line of goods kept by Jehial Read & Co.

Attention is directed to the advertisement of Gen. J. W. Burke, offering China Poland Pigs for sale.

Col. Parr offers the best Northern Seed Irish Potatoes of various kinds at two dollars per bushel, also Onions at two dollars per bushel.

We have received the premium Chromo that go with the American Land and Law Advisor. Subscribers get the Chromo as soon as they subscribe. It is an elegant Chromo. Can be seen at this office.

Groceries get cheaper every day at W. T. & C. S. Alexander's.

Go to W. T. & C. S. Alexander to buy your Sugar. They sell extra Sugar for 7 Cts. to the dollar.

In speaking of Banking or Insurance establishments we are more than usually careful. Hence until now we have not noticed the advertisement of the Mobile Life Insurance Company. We have thoroughly investigated and find the company to be sound, safe and possessing claims on our people. This company, although only 20 months old, has 1400 policy holders and the receipts have been net $170,000. Interest has more than paid the death losses up to this time. The Gadsden Branch of this Institution has 60 policy holders and $4000 accommodations. The efficient agent of the Company located at Gadsden, R. O. Randall, has taken 17 applications for policies amounting to $10,000 insurance in the past two weeks.

Immense sums of money are sent North for insurance every year. The feature in this company is that the money is not only kept in the State, but in the very locality where the insured one lives. It is a Southern institution, and all things being equal, should be preferred to Northern Companies. It is as good as any of them. It is an Alabama Company, and specially has claims upon Alabamians.

Col. Parr is receiving one of the largest and best assorted Stocks of Plantation and Family Groceries ever brought to Jacksonville; Bacon and Pork Hams, Bulk and Bacon Sides and Shoulders, Dried Beef, Mince-meat and Krout, Pigs Feet, Pickles by the gallon, and every good thing to eat. Also a large lot of Garden Seeds and the best assortment of Irish Potatoes ever shipped to Jacksonville.

Go and try some of W. T. & C. S. Alexander's Hominy, it is nice.

Can goods of every description at W. T. & C. S. Alexander's.

I heard a man say that W. T. & C. S. Alexander could come near giving you 30 cents worth of goods for 25 cents than any one he ever traded with.

Go to W. T. & C. S. Alexander and get a Box of their extra Starch.

We invite attention to the card of Mr. Wm. F. TURNER, with Chamberlin, Boynton & Co. one of the most extensive wholesale and retail Dry Goods establishments in Atlanta.

Mr. Turnley was raised and educated in Jacksonville—has been noted for steady, correct and industrious habits, and that energy, honesty and fidelity so essential to business qualifications.

Orders sent to him, in this excellent, well known and deservedly popular house, will be filled carefully and with dispatch.

A Disease with a Thousand Symptoms.

Dyspepsia is the most perplexing of all human ailments. Its symptoms are almost infinite in their variety, and the forlorn and despondent victims of the disease often fancy themselves the prey, in turn, of every known malady. This is due in part, to the close sympathy which exists between the stomach and the brain, and in part also to the fact that any disturbance of the digestive function necessarily disorders the liver, the bowels and the nervous system, and affects, to some extent, the quality of the blood. A medicine that, like Hostetter's Bitters, not only tones the stomach, but at the same time, controls the liver, produces a regular habit of body, braces the nerves, purifies the fluids and "administers to a mind diseased," is therefore the true and only specific for chronic indigestion. Such is the operation of this famous vegetable restorative. It not only cures dyspepsia, but also all concomitant and consequent disorders. Moreover, it is invaluable as a preventive of indigestion. No one who chooses to take half a wineglassful of this agreeable appetizer and stomachic, habitually three times a day, will ever be troubled with oppression after eating, nausea, or sour eructations, or any other indications of a want of vigor in the digestive and assimilating organs. The debility and languor superinduced by hot weather are immediately and permanently relieved by the Bitters, and persons who are constitutionally inclined to look upon life "as through a glass, darkly," will be apt to take a brighter and more hopeful view of the situation under the genial influence of this wholesome medicinal stimulant.

W. T. & C. S. ALEXANDER will pay the highest market price for Butter Eggs Chickens Ducks Turkeys Pans Corn wheat. People from the Country will do well to call and see them when they go to Jacksonville.

BEWARE OF MERCURY.

The distrust of preparations containing Mercury was never greater than now. Indeed, there is good authority for the belief, that this powerful poison once taken into the system, can never be entirely expelled. For liver diseases, torpidity of liver, biliousness, jaundice, and similar complaints, a purely vegetable remedy like Dr. William Brazier's Liver Medicine, is much to be preferred. The discovery of this celebrated medicine, who lived to be upwards of one hundred years old, was a celebrated South Carolina Physician.

READ THE TESTIMONY. Rozelle & Co., at O. K. Landing, Miss. River, state their customers are highly delighted with the specific effect of Dr. William Brazier's Liver Medicine. They claim this remedy has fully answered all the purposes of Blue Mass, Calomel and other alteratives, by its prompt action on the liver, regulating the flow of bile, and neutralizing jaundice, biliousness, Chills and Fever, jaundice, torpid liver, and all those diseases originating from miasma, are promptly cured by the use of this great Liver Medicine. They further state their sales are enormous and constantly increasing.

The Eastman Atlanta Business College.

This Institution has achieved a success which is unparalleled in the history of Commercial Colleges. Starting in Atlanta, Ga., May 9th, 1871, with four students, it has already sent out to the business world nearly THREE HUNDRED STUDENTS to attest its superior merits. The secret of its wonderful success is, it is the only College in the South that is conducted on the ACTUAL BUSINESS PLAN. It keeps up to the letter of its advertisements. It is conducted by men who have had years of experience as practical accountants, business men, and teachers. The total cost for a full course including board, washing, tuition, books, and stationery will not exceed $130. JACKSONVILLE, ALA., March 17th, 1873.

To the Agricultural Society of Calhoun County, Alabama.

Gentlemen—I am advised by the Commissioner of Agriculture at Washington that he has forwarded at the suggestion of the Hon. Jno. H. Caldwell, packages of field and garden seeds for this society to the address of your corresponding Secretary. I am also informed that these seeds are at the post office at this place.

I beg leave hereby to give notice to the members of said society that on the 17th day of September last, the said commissioner informed me that the Department, upon information the said commissioner had received in the month of May, previously, which he considered reliable, he had ordered the Calhoun county Agricultural Society to be stricken from the list of societies at the said Department; that he considered the same literally dead. Subsequently I have taken, in correspondence with the Department, no issues upon the allegations assigned for the disrepute shown to the society upon hearsay reports or upon the ungentlemanly communications of an outside carpet-bag villain, a self constituted guardian of the national public.

I received the information of expunging our name from the list, in answer to my note of enquiry with in response to my monthly communications I received no quarterly reports. I have studiously sought of the so-called Hon. Commissioner the name of his informant. In his reply to my two first notes he avoided the question; to my third note presented by the Hon. J. H. Caldwell, the Department consented, of its mere clemency, in plain grace, to say the name of the society is now restored to the list of societies again. In this note the seeds, as above, are mentioned, but upon the subject of the author of this reliable information received by the Department of our defunct comrade, he says "it would be impossible at this late period to furnish the desired information." Thus gentlemen you see this Hon. Commissioner, head of the Agricultural Bureau of the North American Republic, has taken official action upon testimony and cannot, ninety days thereafter, give the name of the witness upon whose evidence this action was taken. The Hon. Commissioner has so short and remarkable defective memory, large business, no means of record, no salaried clerks—such Mr. Spradlings Swank. For one, I am willing to send these seeds back to the Department and have nothing more to do with it for a long time.

Before I could consent to plant of these seeds I would prefer to throw aside the implements of husbandry, the arts and refinements of the age, adopt the principles enunciated in the speech of the Indian warrior, Tecumseh, delivered at Tuckabachee, in 1812. Go to the far West, dress in skins subsist by hunting.

If, however, any or all of the society desire the seeds, I wish you to take them, together with the blank interrogatories asked to be answered by the Commissioner. I am proud and thankful for the testimonial of confidence offered by the appointment to office and now return the trust thus reposed. E. T. READ.

An Election Law.

The House has passed an Election Law which only needs a section requiring all voters in the county to poll their ballots in their respective precincts to make it very nearly all that could be asked. It contains the feature of the right of challenge, and it also punishes in an appropriate manner all fraudulent voting. We trust that it may be acceptable to a majority of both Houses of the General Assembly to require Precinct voting; but give us the Law as it stands if nothing better can be done.

Montgomery Advertiser.

Major J. H. Francis has again become the editor and proprietor of the Montgomery Commercial, and has changed its name back to the Advance. Major Francis is a real live newspaper man, is a writer of force and brilliancy, and we have no doubt the Advance will become a power. We wish him the greatest success.—Selma Times.

Western papers state that members of Congress from that section found, on returning home, that their salary grab was so unpopular that they devoted large portions of it to charity, hoping thus to appease public wrath.

"There were giants in those days," said Jones, speaking of the days of Webster, Clay and Calhoun. "Yes," said Muggins, "and there are thieves in these days."

THE MOBILE LIFE INSURANCE CO.

This first class Southern Company is a grand success. It has issued over One thousand policies during the past year. It was organized by the leading business men in the State with the view of stopping the flow of money to Northern Insurance Companies. It has succeeded wonderfully. Over One Hundred Thousand Dollars have been kept in this State that would have otherwise been sent out.

ITS CAPITAL, $300,000.

Is securely invested, and its accumulations are all kept in our midst, thereby enhancing the value of our property and developing our resources. Every Alabamian should insure in this safe, home company.

I. Because every dollar is kept in our State instead of being sent out.

II. It is economically and prudently managed.

III. Its managers are gentlemen whom we all know—and whom we can trust; they are well and favorably known throughout the South.

POETRY.

THE ELEVENTH HOUR.

Whist, sir; would you please to speak aisy,
And sit you down there by the dure;
She sleeps, sir, so light and so restless,
She hears every step on the dure.
What ails her? God knows. She's been
For months, and the heat drives her Wild;
The summer has wasted and worn her
Till she's only the ghost of a child.
All I have? Yes, she is, and God help me!
As pure as ivory you see, sir,
But was by woe that drooped like,
And died.
What was it that took them? You're asking,
Why poverty, sure, and no doubt;
They perished for food and fresh air,
Like flowers dried up in the drought.
It was dreadful to lose them? Ah! was it!
It seemed like my heart-strings would Break;
But there's days when, wid want and
wid sorrow,
I'm thankful they're gone—for their sake.
Their father? Well, sir, saints forgive me:
It's a foul tongue that lowers its oval;
But what wid the strikes an' the liquor,
I'd better be stragglin' alone!
Do I want to keep this man? The darlint,
The last and dearest of all
Shure, you're niver a father yourself sir,
Or you wouldn't be askin' at all!
What is that? Milk and food for the baby!
A doctor and medicine free!
You're hunting out all the sick children,
And poor, tollin' mothers like me!
God bless you! and them that have sent you!
A new life you have given me, so,
Shure, sir, you're lookin' in the cradle
At the colleen, you've saved 'fore you go!
Oh, mother o' me! have pity!
Oh, darlint, why couldn't you wait?
Dead! dead! an' the help in the dureway!
Too late! Oh, my baby! too late!

UNCLE JO.

BY ALICE CARY.

I have in memory a little story,
That few indeed would rhyme about but me.
'Tis not of love, nor fame, nor yet of glory,
Although a little colored with the three;
In very truth, I think as much perchance,
As most tales disembodied from romance.
Jo lived about the village, and was neighbor
To every one who had hard work to do;
If he possessed a genius, 'twas for labor,
Most people thought, but there were one or two
Who sometimes said, when he arose to go,
"Come in again and see us, Uncle Jo!"
The 'Uncle' was a courtesy they gave—
And felt they could afford to give to him.
Just as master makes of some good slave
An Aunt Jemima, or an Uncle Jim;
And of this dubious kindness Jo was glad.
Poor fellow, it was all he ever had!
A mile or so away he had a brother—
A rich, proud man that people didn't like;
But Jo had neither sister, wife, nor mother.
And baked his corn cake at his cabin fire
After the day's work, hard for you or me.
But he was never tired—how could he be?
They called him dull, but he had eyes of quickness
For everybody that could befriend;
Said one and all, "How kind he is in sickness."
But there, of course, his goodness had an end.
Another praise there was might have been given,
For one or more days out of every seven.
With his old pickaxe, swung across his shoulder,
And downcast eyes, and slow and sober tread—
He sought the place of graves, and each beholder Wondered and asked some other who was dead;
But when he'd digged all day, nobody thought
That he had done a whit more than he ought.
At length, one winter, when the sunbeam slanted
Faintly and cold across the churchyard snow;
The bell tolled out—a sad grave was wanted.
And all looked anxiously for Uncle Jo;
His spade stood there against his own roof-tree,
There was his pickaxe, too, but where was he?
They called and called again, but no replying;
Smooth at the window and about the door,
The snow in cold and heavy drifts was lying—
He didn't need the daylight any more.
One shook him roughly, and another said
"As true as preaching, Uncle Jo is dead!"
And when they wrapped him in linen, fairer
And finer, too, than he had worn till then,
They found a picture—happy of the sharer
Of sunny hope sometime; or where or when,
They did not care to know, but closed
his eyes
And placed it in the coffin where he lies.
None wrote his epitaph, nor saw the beauty
Of pure love that reached into the grave,
Nor how in unobtrusive ways of duty
He kept, despite the dark; but men less brave
Have left great names, while not a willow bends
Above his dust—poor Jo, he had no friends!

THE SINGER SEWING MACHINES.

These well known and excellent Sewing machines, which have stood the test of years, and believed by many good judges to be equal, if not superior, to any of the most modern improvements, which took the premium at the late Georgia State Fair, as the best Family Sewing machine, also the best manufacturing machines, will be for sale in this section of Alabama.

We have been informed by the Agent, Mr. W. E. HARR, of Conyers, Ga., that more of these machines were sold last year than of any other description.

SAD CASUALTY.

On Thursday, the 20th inst., Ansel Gidley, 2nd son of James Gidley, Jr., about 13 years of age, was found hanging by the neck in his father's Tan-yard shop.

The most singular part of the transaction is the fact that he was found hanging on a leather string tied to a beam above, but not tied around his neck; only passed under his chin. A little sister saw him and ran to the house, telling her mother he had a fit; but before the mother reached him he was entirely dead. Whether it was accidental, or a case of suicide, must ever remain in doubt and mystery.

Go to W. T. & C. S. Alexander's and get some of their Pearl Drip Syrup.

Tragedies on the A. & C. Railroad.

We have been permitted to take the following extract from a private letter received in this place; and have heard it suggested that the homicide at Collinsville may have been accidental.

"By the way—there were three men murdered on the Alabama and Chattanooga Railroad on Sunday last—a Conductor of the road at Meridian, Miss. The Ass't Superintendent, murdered by the Conductor at Tuscaloosa, and a Negro at Collinsville, all happened Sunday and Sunday night—horrible, is it not?"

Col. JOHN D. HOKK, one of the most highly esteemed citizens of our town and county, and one of our first settlers of this place, died at his residence on Monday morning last, in the 71st year of his age. He had been declining for some months, but not violently attacked until about the third day before his death.

We expect to be furnished with a suitable tribute to his memory for publication in our next.

ENTERPRISE IN BUSINESS.

We like enterprise, and we know of no class of business men displaying more of it than the newspaper publishers of America. The Publishers of Our Friends Friend, Chicago, announce this week in our columns, their second Annual Distribution of premium to subscribers.

This excellent Store and Family weekly is now in its third volume. Its success has been great. It is firmly established as one of the leading weeklies of the Union, with the largest circulation of any paper in the West. Its success may in no slight degree be attributed to its method of distributing premiums, which is permanent with this paper. Being held permanent with this paper, being held permanent with this paper, being held permanent with this paper.

Their list of premiums is fine and secure to every subscriber for 1873 a premium either in cash or some one of the valuable articles mentioned in the list. We cheerfully encourage the paper. Their plan of distributing premiums is a notable part of their well conducted enterprise and our readers need have no doubt as to their being fairly dealt with. The paper is a financial success. Its immense circulation enable its publishers to offer this valuable list of premiums and to fully carry out their plan of distributing them.

Specimen copies of the paper and premium list giving full particulars may be had by addressing the Publishers Chicago.

Now stop saying "Times are hard," "can't get anything to do," &c., &c., and write at once to the undersigned, who will guarantee RESPECTABLE and profitable employment to all who desire it, both MALE and FEMALE, and send full particulars free. Address immediately, M. R. SCULLAN & CO., Main street, Okolona, Miss.

We have received from the publishers of OUR FRIENDS FRIEND the chromo "Cute," which they give away to every subscriber to their weekly. We have seen much of the beauty of this picture before seeing it, and we now say with pleasure that its value and beauty has not been over-estimated. Our FRIENDS FRIEND has successfully reached its third volume and is already highly prized and widely known throughout the Union.

Letter From Rev. A. B. THOMAS.

PEABODY HOTEL, Memphis, Feb. 6, 1873.

Messrs. Mansfield & Higbee:

DEAR SIRS: I wish to say a few words relative to your Liver Medicine, called Dr. Wm. Brazier's Liver Cordial, which has proven itself to be the very best medicine I have ever known for the relief of Liver Complaints and all sympathetic affections attendant upon a deranged or disordered Liver. I have been a sufferer nearly my life, more or less, from what is termed "biliousness" or want of action of the Liver and secretions, which seemed to be inherited, as my father was similarly afflicted. I have tried many specifics, so called, and have even changed my locality, being advised by physicians that a change of climate would be beneficial. From all the means thus employed I have found only temporary relief for a short time. During Dr. Brazier's Liver Medicine, his case having been similar to my own, until he was cured by its use. I procured from Rev. Pendleton & Co., of Nashville, a half-dozen bottles, and took it regularly with the best results. I consider myself about twenty years younger than I was a year ago. My whole system seems to have undergone a thorough change. All symptoms of debility and sluggishness have disappeared; elasticity of body and mind where was only despondency and gloom. I cheerfully recommend this great rejuvenator of the human system wherever I go, and hope its merits may be known far and wide.

Yours, truly, A. B. THOMAS.
